SURREALISM

Sanctuary Books
sanctuaryrarebooks@gmail.com
(212) 861-1055
FEATURED ITEMS AND PHOTOGRAPHS
P. 4–39

FROM THE LIBRARY OF ENRICO DONATI
P. 40–45

LATER BOOKS
P. 46–49
An eclectic selection centered around mostly French, American and Mexican Surrealism circles with: journals and magazines, exhibition catalogs, artist-signed and decorated postcards, original drawings and vintage photographs. Highlights include works related to or by: André Breton, Joseph Cornell, Paul Strand, Ad Reinhardt, Wolfgang Paalen, Marcel Duchamp, Fernand Leger, Max Ernst, Jacques Prévert, René Crevel, Francis Picabia, Man Ray, Paul Éluard, Joan Miró and more. Of special note is a unique selection of material (some unpublished) related to Kurt Seligmann (1900–1962); the Swiss-American second-generation Surrealist painter and engraver, known for his distinctive, mystifying and fantastical imagery. A high point of this selection is the sought-after, landmark exhibition catalog: Exposición Internacional del Surrealismo (The International Exhibition of Surrealism), organized by André Breton in 1940 at Galleria de arte Mexicano in Mexico City.
[BLACK HUMOR] Breton, André, Edmond Bomsel, ed. De l’humour noir. Paris: GLM [Guy Lévis Mano], 1937. André Breton’s program on black humor for the literary conference he attended at the Comédie des Champs-Élysées organized by the Exposition Internationale Paris on Saturday, October 9, 1937. With “SELIGMANN” in pencil on title page, “GRABBE” (Christian Dietrich Grabbe) written over front cover, a profile drawing on the back cover, multiple forward-facing portraits on the G. CH. Lichtenberg aphorism page and some notations throughout. A collection of poems, text and quotes by Bréton, Albert Béguin, Nietzsche, J.M. Synge, Jacob van Hoddis, Duchamp, Lewis Carroll, Paul Eluard, Hans Arp, Georges Hugnet, Gisèle Prassinos and more. The original orange wrappers printed in black feature an illustrated front cover by Yves Tanguy. Interior pages include a full-page black and white photo collage (Qu’est-ce que l’Humour noir?) captioned on the back cover on coated paper by Breton. 32 pp., 5.5”w x 7.5”h printed on various stock. A fragile copy with wear, torn translucent wrapper, covers removed from stapled binding and damp staining to the last page. $750
FEATURED ITEMS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

[ADVENTURES IN SURREALISM EXHIBITION]
Exhibition Catalogue [List], two original, single-sided typescript pages; January 22 to March 19, 1941, Third Floor, New York: New School for Social Research, 66 West 12th Street, 1941. Howard Putzel, the American gallerist and Peggy Guggenheim’s art adviser arranged a pioneering group exhibition “Adventures in Surrealist Painting During the Last Four Years”, which including multiple shows. No illustrated exhibition catalogs were printed; instead checklists such as this one were provided — it features (36) artworks by (16) artists with many works not previously shown in America by younger artists: de Chirico, Arp, Dominguez, Ernst, Magritte, Miró, Moore, Tanguy, Brauner, Delvaux, Paalen, Hayter, Seligmann, Matta, Onslow-Ford and Francés. Each listed with title of artwork, some with year and loan information (Museum of Modern Art, Pierre Matisse Gallery, Julien Levy Gallery, etc.). To accompany the exhibition, a series of four educational lectures title “Surrealist Painting: An Adventure into Human Consciousness” were given to the public by Gordon Onslow Ford, the English-born, Parisian Surrealist painter. The original, typed pages have been enclosed in heat sealed plastic sheets; very good condition with toning, folding and paper loss to some corners. $500

[PHOTOGRAPHY]

$200

$500
FÉATIRED ITEMS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

[POETRY AND LITERATURE] Cahiers G.L.M
Cinquième Cahier, April 1937. Paris: G.L.M
[Guy Lévis Mano], 1937. The important French
Surrealist poetry and literary journal including
(4) full-page etchings illustrated in black and white by Kurt Seligmann, along with text contributions by René Crevel (Poème), Gisèle Prassinos (Dédicaces), Pablo Neruda (Nous Réunis), Alfredo Gangotena (Cruautés), Franz
Kafka (Mon Voisin), Lisa Deharme (Poèmes),
Basile Sainte-Croix (Ballade du Nouveau Monde),
Monny de Voully (L’Ombre Blanche), Claude
Sernet (Autographes), and Jean Le Louet (Notes sur la Rébellion en Literature). 56 pp., 5.5”w x 7.75”h with stiff printed wrappers. The last few pages are printed on colored stock and feature G.L.M advertising and excerpts including a promotion for their upcoming October issue,
edited by André Breton and devoted to DREAMS.
Very good with uncut pages and light handling throughout.
$125

[ARTIST SIGNED POSTCARDS] A small group of
(3) postcards and (3) notecards, all addressed to the influential art historian, critic and author Martica Sawin; notable for her rich, narrative documenting Surrealism in America and the beginning’s of the New York School (Surrealism in Exile and the Beginning of the New York School, 1991), among many other contemporary art subjects. All postcards with stamps and postal markings, c. 1980 and signed by Ad [Reinhardt] and Alan [Gussow].
With typescript notecards also addressed to Sawin c. 1985 allowing permission to read access-restricted transcripts from the Archives of American Art, presumably related to research. Each card signed and two with research related notes by Peter Busa, Clement Greenberg, and Marian W. Johnson.
$300
MEXICAN SURREALISM EXHIBITION. Rare Exhibition Catalog. Breton, André, Paalen Wolfgang and Moro César. Exposición Internacional del Surrealismo: aparición de la gran esfinge nocturna. International Exhibition of Surrealism: Apparition of the Great Sphinx of the Night / Clairvoyant Watchets / Perfume of the Fifth Dimension / Radioactive Frames / Burnt Invitations. Mexico City: Galería de Arte Mexicano (GAM), January—February 1940. Organized by André Breton, The International Exhibition of Surrealism was Mexico's ambitious exhibition on the topic of Surrealism. The exhibition took place at Mexico's most modern art gallery (opened in 1935), owned by the pioneer Modern Mexican Art gallerist, Inés Amor. With Spanish/English text: Introduction by Peruvian poet, César Moro and Secondary Text by Mexico-based Austrian painter, Wolfgang Paalen, both who also helped organize the exhibition. The illustrated mirrored covers feature Manuel Alvarez Bravo’s curious photograph Sobre el invierno (1938–39), followed by Breton’s mysterious quote introducing the catalog “La belleza será convulsiva o no será” (Beauty will be convulsive or it will not be). The exhibition catalog features a list of (108) artworks: drawings, objects, collages, photographs, paintings, and more by (51) International and Mexican contemporary artists from fifteen countries; a who’s who of the artistic avant-garde, with artist’s name, title of work, type and year. Photographically illustrated throughout with (45) black and white plates featuring: Raoul Ubac, Manual Alvarez Bravo, Eva Sulzer, Hans Arp, Giorgio de Chirico, Salvador Dalí, Marcel Duchamp, Max Ernst, Frida Kahlo, Rene Magritte, Andre Masson, Joan Miró, Wolfgang Paalen, Picasso, Man Ray, Diego Rivera, Yves Tanguy, André Breton, Hans Bellmer, Esteban Frances, Kurt Seligmann, and others. 52 pp., plus covers, 6.25”w x 10.5”h, printed in black and white. A very good, rare catalog with a scuffed back cover and a small tear near the heel of the spine. Light handling and bent lower corner pages throughout. Some pencil marks and one page has come undone (but still included) from the stapled binding. At the time of publishing, no copies for sale on the Internet. $3,500
FEATURED ITEMS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

[PAUL STRAND: ORGEVAL PHOTOGRAPH] An original, undated (pre 1976), handwritten note “All our very best wishes for the New Year” given to Jim and Cleo Fitch (1910-1995), without their names, from Paul and Hazel (Kingsbury) Strand with an original black and white, silver print photograph (undated, likely taken between c. 1956–early 1970s) tipped-in. The personal note which references an address, well-wishes and “busy as can be” is signed in blue ink three times: “Paul + Hazel”; “P.” and “Love H+P.” James Marston Fitch (1909-2000) was an architectural scholar, educator and founder of the Historic Preservation program at Columbia University. The small note, penned in blue ink on tissue paper has been folded once. The original Paul Strand (1890–1970) photograph (2.125”w x 2.875”h), some of his last works, feature plants and flowers, taken at his home garden in Orgeval, France where he lived from 1949. Strand’s quote expresses his garden photographs well: “The artist’s world is limitless. It can be found from anywhere, far from where he lives, or a few feet away. It is always on his doorstep.” With traces of handling and small tear to the tissue paper and a barely visible diagonal crease to the Strand photograph. $1,500
KURT SELIGMANN EXHIBITION. Calas, Nicolas. Kurt Seligmann, April 12 to May 12, 1941, New York: Nierendorf Gallery, 1941. Catalog for Seligmann’s second solo exhibition at the Berlin dealer Karl Nierendorf’s recently opened eponymous gallery aimed at New York’s growing émigré artists community. Nierendorf published several editions of Seligmann’s etchings including this fantastical seven-color illustrated cover featured here; printed on rich black paper with off-white, yellow, and bright orange paper for the interior pages. Catalog includes essay by Calas: “The minotaur and the poet,” biography and exhibition list, photograph of two dancers in costumes designed by Seligmann and a single-page etching of “The Beggars”. Included with the catalog is a 5.75”w x 7.5”h single-sided, colored plate (“Seligmann 46”) featuring a Seligmann painting with dance-like expressive imagery. 12 pp., plus black wrappers, 6.5”w x 9.25”h. Nearly fine with only a hint of wear. $175

JOSEPH CORNELL. A typescript postcard addressed to Mr. & Mrs. Kurt Seligman from Joseph Cornell, the celebrated American assemblage artist and filmmaker. With stamps and postal markings from New York, NY, December 6, 1945. The verso reads: “My PORTRAIT OF ONDINE with which you so kindly helped me on that afternoon so replete with pleasant memories of apple pie & chocolate cake, rain, Gaspard de la Nuit, etc. etc. I have notes of that afternoon, sometime I’ll try to tell you more.” Signed in marker by Joseph Cornell. Cornell’s letter is referring to his small exhibition on the romantic Italian ballerina Fanny Cerrito (1817–1909) held at the Museum of Modern Art’s Theatre & Dance Room – Auditorium from November 28, 1945 – February 3, 1946. $1,500
FEATURED ITEMS AND PHOTOGRAPHS

FIRST NATIONS AND ETHNOGRAPHY

Multiple items related to Kurt and Arlette Seligmann’s interest (and influence) in ethnography and the Native Americans and the First Nations in British Columbia. 1.) An oversize, folded twice, offset print from XXe Siècle <Twentieth Century>, A Magazine of Art. Paris, February 1939 featuring: “Mimicry of the Human Body” by Pierre Guéguen; a full-page, illustrated lithograph of Joan Miró’s “Constellations d’une femme assise”; and “Keigyett: Myth of the Totem of Gyaedem Skanees,” by Carrier chief Donald Gray (of Hagwelget, the First Nations community of British Columbia, Canada) and collaborator Kurt Seligmann. 2.) A photocopy of the French translation extract of Seligmann’s “Keigyett” essay as published in the 1939 Journal de la Société des Americanistes. 3.) An early printed black and white photograph by Arlette Seligmann related to Seligmann’s travels and field research in totemism in British Columbia; titled on verso “Indians Carriers a Hagwelget ete 1938” with multiple pen and descriptive pencil notations. 4.) Two reproduced (stamped Nov. 8, 1999), installation view photographs from the exhibition “Indian Art of the United States”, held at the Museum of Modern Art, New York, 1941. 5) A signed and decorated postcard addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt and Arlette Seligmann with stamp and postal markings. Originating from France, 1958 with multiple messages by at least three unknown people, it features a black and white photograph of the painted wood totem pole the Seligmann’s obtained for the Musée de l’Homme, Paris during their visit to the First Nations in British Columbia, Canada. The front of the postcard features a pen totem drawing and reads “La Gloire de Seligmann”. Overall, all items are in good condition with some wear, specifically the heavy fold marks and toning to the XXe Siècle offprint and small corner crease to the postcard.

$450

KURT SELIGMANN: ORIGINAL DRAWINGS

1.) Landscape pencil drawing by Kurt Seligmann executed on the original printed bellyband, which accompanied the catalogue, published in conjunction with the landmark show Exposition Internationale Du Surréalisme held at the Galerie Beaux-Arts, Paris from January – February 1938 which included Seligmann’s artwork “Ultra-furniture”, a stool made of four bent female legs. A unique, untitled/unsigned item in good condition, 13”w x 3.25”h flat bellyband, folded once with moderate toning at the fold and a piece torn which has been repaired with tape. 2.) A full sheet of (11) untitled/unsigned, vertical costume drawings and stacked occult-like symbols, all executed with blue ink on both sides of a sturdy, irregular edge, textured paper. Undated in very good condition, approx. 7.5”w x 10.75”h with some mild traces of use. 3.) (2) untitled/unsigned original, vertical pencil drawings by Kurt Seligmann executed on delicate sketch notepad paper, recto only. Undated in very good condition, each approx. 3”w x 5”h with a rough top edge (removed from the notepad), corner paper loss and mild toning. 4.) Full sheet, red colored crayon and pencil on sketchbook paper featuring a fully executed Unicorn costume design not unlike costumers Seligmann designed for Gian-Carlo Menotti’s 1958 ballet “The Unicorn, the Gorgon, and the Manticore” commissioned by the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis. Notations in pencil on back “Kurt Seligmann costume designs for ballet”. Undated in very good condition, approx. 8.75”w x 11.75”h with a rough top edge (removed from the sketchpad), corner paper loss and mild toning. $1,500

$650

[VIEW: FERNAND LEGER] View: The Modern Magazine, New York. Fall 1944, Series IV, No. 3, stapled magazine, 9”w x 12”h with 31 pages. Edited by Charles Henri Ford and Assistant Editor; writer and film critic Parker Tyler. Front cover designed by Fernand Leger. Heavily illustrated with black and white plates and period advertising including many prominent New York City art galleries and publishers. Contributors and artists featured in this issue include: Gertrude Cato, Parker Tyler, Robert Melville, Giorgio Di Chirico, James Johnson Sweeney, Pico della Mirandola, Pavel Tchelitchew, Charles Henri Ford, Florine Stettheimer, Leo Poch, Joan Doleska, Barry Ulanov, Paul Bowles, and others. Published quarterly from 1940 to 1947, View magazine featured contemporary avant-garde art, literature, poetry and music, with a special emphasis on the Surrealism movement including European and American artists and writers displaced or affected by World War II. Excellent condition.

$100
Man Ray in his Paris studio, 1970. Photographer: Renate Ponsold–Motherwell. 5.125”w x 7”h; with photographer’s signature and title in ink and stamped “Copyright 1975 / Renate Ponsold–Motherwell / 909 North St. / Greenwich, Conn. 06830 / 203-661-3585”. Man Ray (1890–1976) is seated in his last studio in Paris with important symbols of his artistic life by his side. The book Oggetti d'affezione, contains 119 Dada objects and assemblages dating from 1917 to 1968. It was published in 1970 (Einaudi, Turin) with the assistance of Arturo Schwarz, art scholar and Ray’s dealer. Also on the table is Emak Bakia (1926, remade 1970) made of the wooden neck of a cello and horsehair, ‘The cello-neck looked worn and weathered, and Man Ray felt the urge to point humorously to its age: since it has grown old, he gave it a long white beard’ (Schwarz, Man Ray: The Rigour of Imagination, London, 1977). Renate Ponsold–Motherwell (b. 1935) is an artist and photographer. Along with her husband Robert Motherwell, they participated in many important art movements of the twentieth century. Very good with light waviness to one side, pinholes near the corners, and diagonal creases to the lower right hand corner. $350

[MAN RAY: PHOTOGRAPH] A photo postcard with artistic embellishments, stamps and postal markings sent from Mexico (January 2, 1941) and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Seligmann from their lifelong friends Wolfgang Paalen, the Austrian-Mexican Surrealist painter, sculptor and writer who wrote the short text for the landmark 1940 International Exhibition of Surrealism catalog (see item #6) and his wife, Alice, the French-Mexican poet and artist. The Paalen’s friendly note, written in French praises Seligmann for a previous letter, mentions his fondness for Mexico with references to: Alice [Rahon], Wolfgang’s wife, and Eva [Sulzer], the Swiss-born photographer and collector who worked closely with Paalen and other Surrealist émigrés in Mexico during the early 1940s and more. The front features a hand-tinted, brightly colored and decorated photograph of a Spanish matador dressed in the traditional traje de luces clothing — the photo postcard (c. early 1900s) is embellished with embroidered gold fabric and sequins a vibrant threads of red that have been glued down over the photo. Both items very good with light traces of wear; more so with the Spanish matador card, which is buckling on the verso and slightly coming undone where the glue has dried. $1,250

[MAN RAY: PHOTOGRAPH] Man Ray in his Paris studio, 1970. Photographer: Renate Ponsold–Motherwell. 5.125”w x 7”h; with photographer’s signature and title in ink and stamped “Copyright 1975 / Renate Ponsold–Motherwell / 909 North St. / Greenwich, Conn. 06830 / 203-661-3585”. Man Ray (1890–1976) is seated in his last studio in Paris with important symbols of his artistic life by his side. The book Oggetti d'affezione, contains 119 Dada objects and assemblages dating from 1917 to 1968. It was published in 1970 (Einaudi, Turin) with the assistance of Arturo Schwarz, art scholar and Ray’s dealer. Also on the table is Emak Bakia (1926, remade 1970) made of the wooden neck of a cello and horsehair, ‘The cello-neck looked worn and weathered, and Man Ray felt the urge to point humorously to its age: since it has grown old, he gave it a long white beard’ (Schwarz, Man Ray: The Rigour of Imagination, London, 1977). Renate Ponsold–Motherwell (b. 1935) is an artist and photographer. Along with her husband Robert Motherwell, they participated in many important art movements of the twentieth century. Very good with light waviness to one side, pinholes near the corners, and diagonal creases to the lower right hand corner. $350

WOLFGANG PAALEN ARTIST POSTCARDS] A photo postcard with artistic embellishments, stamps and postal markings sent from Mexico (January 2, 1941) and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Seligmann from their lifelong friends Wolfgang Paalen, the Austrian-Mexican Surrealist painter, sculptor and writer who wrote the short text for the landmark 1940 International Exhibition of Surrealism catalog (see item #6) and his wife, Alice, the French-Mexican poet and artist. The Paalen’s friendly note, written in French praises Seligmann for a previous letter, mentions his fondness for Mexico with references to: Alice [Rahon], Wolfgang’s wife, and Eva [Sulzer], the Swiss-born photographer and collector who worked closely with Paalen and other Surrealist émigrés in Mexico during the early 1940s and more. The front features a hand-tinted, brightly colored and decorated photograph of a Spanish matador dressed in the traditional traje de luces clothing — the photo postcard (c. early 1900s) is embellished with embroidered gold fabric and sequins a vibrant threads of red that have been glued down over the photo. Both items very good with light traces of wear; more so with the Spanish matador card, which is buckling on the verso and slightly coming undone where the glue has dried. $1,250

WOLFGANG PAALEN ARTIST POSTCARDS] A photo postcard with artistic embellishments, stamps and postal markings sent from Mexico (January 2, 1941) and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Seligmann from their lifelong friends Wolfgang Paalen, the Austrian-Mexican Surrealist painter, sculptor and writer who wrote the short text for the landmark 1940 International Exhibition of Surrealism catalog (see item #6) and his wife, Alice, the French-Mexican poet and artist. The Paalen’s friendly note, written in French praises Seligmann for a previous letter, mentions his fondness for Mexico with references to: Alice [Rahon], Wolfgang’s wife, and Eva [Sulzer], the Swiss-born photographer and collector who worked closely with Paalen and other Surrealist émigrés in Mexico during the early 1940s and more. The front features a hand-tinted, brightly colored and decorated photograph of a Spanish matador dressed in the traditional traje de luces clothing — the photo postcard (c. early 1900s) is embellished with embroidered gold fabric and sequins a vibrant threads of red that have been glued down over the photo. Both items very good with light traces of wear; more so with the Spanish matador card, which is buckling on the verso and slightly coming undone where the glue has dried. $1,250

WOLFGANG PAALEN ARTIST POSTCARDS] A photo postcard with artistic embellishments, stamps and postal markings sent from Mexico (January 2, 1941) and addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Seligmann from their lifelong friends Wolfgang Paalen, the Austrian-Mexican Surrealist painter, sculptor and writer who wrote the short text for the landmark 1940 International Exhibition of Surrealism catalog (see item #6) and his wife, Alice, the French-Mexican poet and artist. The Paalen’s friendly note, written in French praises Seligmann for a previous letter, mentions his fondness for Mexico with references to: Alice [Rahon], Wolfgang’s wife, and Eva [Sulzer], the Swiss-born photographer and collector who worked closely with Paalen and other Surrealist émigrés in Mexico during the early 1940s and more. The front features a hand-tinted, brightly colored and decorated photograph of a Spanish matador dressed in the traditional traje de luces clothing — the photo postcard (c. early 1900s) is embellished with embroidered gold fabric and sequins a vibrant threads of red that have been glued down over the photo. Both items very good with light traces of wear; more so with the Spanish matador card, which is buckling on the verso and slightly coming undone where the glue has dried. $1,250
[MAX ERNST: PHOTOGRAPH] Max Ernst portrait, 1942 (No. 1, 2nd Series, April, 1942). Photographer: James Thrall Soby. 8”w x 9.75”h, silver print, “from Soby archive”. With two typescript labels on the back; one older (which has come undone) than the other and referencing: photographer, short description, number/series and date. In this photograph, Max Ernst (1891–1976) is surrounded by his Hopi kachina dolls on the terrace of Hale House, the brownstone located at Beekman Place, at East 5lst Street in Manhattan that he shared with Peggy Guggenheim, after the two had fled Nazi-occupied Europe, April 1942. Soby took a series of photos of Ernst with his dolls; an alternate from the series appeared in the Max Ernst special issue of Ford’s magazine, View, 2nd Series, No.1, April 1942 (pp. 29) with the caption: “MAX AMONG SOME OF HIS FAVORITE DOLLS”. A very good, semi-gloss photograph which been mounted to a thick, black mat board.

$350

[Jacques Prévert: Photograph] Jacques Prévert portrait, 1927. Photographer: Ateliers Jérome. 7”w x 9.25”h; printed later c. 1940s, with title “PREVERT – Photo Jerome” in green marker by an unknown hand on verso. Prominent French poet Jacques Prévert (1900–1977) was a key figure in the Surrealist movement. From 1924–28 (encompassing the year of this portrait), Prévert lived at 54 rue du Château, Montparnasse, Paris, with Yves Tanguy and the property’s owner Marcel Duhamel. Breton said “The most absolute nonconformity, total irreverence and thorough good humor reigned there” (Blakeway, Claire, Jacques Prévert: Popular French Theatre and Cinema, Associated University Presses, 1990). The house became the unofficial headquarters of the French Surrealists (including André Breton, Raymond Queneau, Pablo Picasso and Alberto Giacometti) until around 1928 when there was a dispute with Breton. Later, Breton regarded Prévert as the leading advocate of Surrealist ideals. An attractive, warm-tone portrait, printed on matte paper, in nearly fine condition with only a hint of wear near the edges.

$850
[RENÉ CREVEL/MAN RAY: PHOTOGRAPH] René Crevel portrait, c. 1928-1932. Photographer: Man Ray. 7”w x 9.375”h, printed later c. 1960, with title “R. CREVEL – Photo Man Ray” in green marker by an unknown hand on verso. “Without René Crevel we would have lost one of the most beautiful pillars of surrealism.” — André Breton. Years before he committed suicide, French Surrealist writer René Crevel (1900–1935) had this intense portrait taken by Man Ray. Crevel is credited with introducing Breton to dream experiments and hypnotism. In Breton’s first Manifesto of Surrealism (1924), he stated “[Surrealism] tends to ruin once and for all all other psychic mechanisms and to substitute itself for them in solving all the principal problems of life.” Crevel was photographed and painted by many artists of the period, including Berenice Abbott, Salvador Dali, Pavel Tchelitchew, Dora Maar, and Gertrude Stein. Uncropped versions of this photograph are included in The Vera and Arturo Schwarz Collection of Dada and Surrealist Art in the Israel Museum and The Pompidou Center in Paris, France. A stunning portrait, printed on matte paper, in fine condition. $850

[FRANCIS PICABIA: PHOTOGRAPH] Francis Picabia portrait, February 1950. Photographer: Christian Baugey. 7”w x 9.25”h, printed later c. 1960s, with title “PICABIA – Photo X” in green marker by an unknown hand on verso. This image is part of the Olga Picabia album (L’Album Picabia, Fonds Mercator, 2016). Francis Picabia (1879–1953), the French avant-garde painter and poet, was a major figure of the American and French Dada and later Surrealism movements. A dramatic portrait, printed on matte paper, in fine condition. $350
ELUARD, Paul; RAY, Man. Les Mains Libres. Paris: Éditions Jeanne Bucher, 1937. Limited Edition. Rebound in solid brown crushed morocco with gilt-lettered spine; 4to; with pictorial title and 56 plates by Man Ray, illustrating poems by Eluard. Inscribed and signed by Man Ray (though recipient’s name has been removed), and signed by Eluard on half-title. Original wraps laid-in. Spine evenly sunned; very light rubbing to spine tips and corners. One plate (Breton portrait) has pencil measurement indications (perhaps left by the publisher), otherwise all nice and clean.

$3,500
ELUARD, Paul; ENGEL-PAK (illustrator). Objets des Mots et des Images. Paris: Mourlot Freres, 1947. First Edition. Copy 9 of 300 examples, signed by Eluard and the artist, Engel-Pak, slipcased with a second copy, an out-of-series proof, unsigned, but with an original drawing for the title drawn by Engel-Pak on thin paper and initialed (design not used), hand-lettered by Eluard, and with three additional sheets hand-lettered by Eluard for the title, the colophon, and a plate list (this last also unused). Housed in two chemises within a vellum-backed slipcase. 12 3/4 x 9 1/4 inches (32.5 x 23.5 cm); 16 sheets printed in color lithography; plus the additional material noted above in the second copy, which is printed on paper 1 cm taller than the published work. This is likely a participant’s copy, possibly Eluard’s own. $1,500

[Manuscript Children’s Book]. Royal Command. Green wraps, bound with yellow ribbon, ink and gouache illustration of a horse mounted to bottom corner of front cover; oblong (217 x 174 mm); contains 21 alternating leaves of tissue (with text handwritten in green) and heavy cardstock (illustrated in ink and gouache), all appearing on the recto only. Total of 11 full-page original ink and gouache illustrations, a few signed, tho difficult to decipher (appears to be “Erni”). Front cover detached; internally fine. A children’s story with antimonarchist undertones, in which an Ant King organizes his worker ants to retrieve food for the kingdom, and meets a humiliating end. The artwork is adept, and wonderfully whimsically carried out -- the perfect compliment to the jocularity of the tale. $1,500
Miró, Joan and Hirtz, Lise. Il était une petite pie (There Was a Little Magpie). 7 Chansons et 3 Chansons pour Hyacinthe avec 8 Dessins en Couleur Par Joan Miró (7 songs and 3 songs for Hyacinthe with 8 color drawings by Joan Miró). Paris: Editions Jeanne Bucher, 1928. First Edition. Original edition of the first book illustrated by Miró; limited to 300 copies; 20 copies on Japon numbered 1 to 20; 280 copies on Arches wove numbered 21 to 300. Printing by Saudé, Paris. This copy No. 188; unsigned. 19 loose sheets includes text (facsimile of poet’s handwriting) and 8 pochoir prints with drawings by Miró, in grey cloth-bound protective boards with printing in green and black on the front and black cloth ties. The drawings resemble Miró’s surrealist paintings of abstract pictorial signs and pure color. Hirtz was the editor of Le Phare de Neuilly, which frequently published articles relating to surrealism. She was married to Paul Deharme, a friend of Robert Desnos and close to the surrealist movement. Publisher Jeanne Bucher owned Galerie Jeanne Bucher, an artistic center of cubism, surrealism and abstraction in Paris from the mid 1920s to the end of WWII. Sheets are 12.75x9.5”; portfolio in custom-made leather-bound clamshell box. Sheets are fine condition, no visible signs of wear. Protective boards are near fine, some rubbing on the spine and one of the black cloth ties has been cut short. Overall, an impressive portfolio. Fine.

$2,500
ERNST, Max. La Femme 100 Têtes. Paris: Editions du Carrefour, 1929. One of 900 copies. Introduction by André Breton. Original printed wrappers; rebacked with new spine of matching color paper. The first of three collage novels by Ernst. This one features 147 monochrome plates. $3,500

ERNST, Max. Rêve d’une Petite Fille qui Voulut Entrer au Carmel. Paris: Editions du Carrefour, 1930. Number 468 of 1000 copies, inscribed by Ernst on the half-title to Charles Balouzet. Original printed wrappers, detached; staining to top of front wrap; long tear to rear wrap. 79 in text illustrations by Ernst. This was his second collage novel, and in spite of the limitation, surviving copies are scarce. Inscribed copies are rare. $6,500

ERNST, Max; VALANCAY, Robert (trans.). Paranythes. [Paris]: Le Point Cardinal, 1967. Limited Edition. Illustrated wraps; with tipped-on frontispiece and 8 full-page illustrations. Inscribed by the author on the half-title page, “Hi Bill! Happy New Year / Max.” Number 335 from a limited edition of 1000 copies. Covers scuffed and lightly creased at along edges, spine, and at corners; slight wrinkle to top corner of text block. A nice copy, with bright, clean illustrations. $375

LEVY, Julien. Surrealism. New York: The Black Sun Press, 1936. First Edition. 192pp., 7.5 x 9.75”. Dedicated on the front free endpaper in black ink “for Elaine and Arthur / Julien Levy”. Laid-in is Andre Breton’s Second Manifeste du Surrealism (Editions Kra, Paris, 1930) publisher’s single-sides book announcement; torn in half and repaired by tape. Heavily illustrated with 65 black and white plates; printed on green, pink, white, yellow and white paper. This first edition is limited to 1500 copies and has been printed at the Marstin Press, New York under the direction of and for Caresse Crosby. The illustrated paper-covered boards are made from an original Joseph Cornell design. A hardcover book with light soiling and wear to the corners, most notable the spine head/heel. Unfortunately, the book is missing pages 61–64, 89–90, 93–96, 98–104, 146–150, 171–172 with an illustration cutout from page 181/182. As such, the book is sold as is. $85
31  Vitězslav, Nezval. Karneval. Romaneto [Carneval: A Novel]. Prague: Odeon, 1926. A black and white photomontage cover design with red lettering by “A. Don” (a pseudonym for Jindřich Styrsky), with a title page designed by Karel Teige and Otakar Mrkvicka. 7.75x5.5", 104pp. Original printed wrappers with only lightly worn edges of the covers; small splits and light wear to the spine head/heel. $150

32  [El Lissitzky, Molnár, Schlemmer, Picasso, Leger, et al]. Roztočené jeviště, úvahy o novém divadle [The Spinning Stage. Thoughts on the New Theatre]. Prague, 1925. Jindřich Honzl, Odeon, Praha, 1925, 184pp., 5.25 x 7.5". Front cover photomontage by Štýrský (Jindřich) & Toyen (Marie Čermínová) with interior graphic design by Karel Teige. Illustrated with work by: Lissitzky, Molnár, Schlemmer, Picasso, Leger and many others. Very good original printed wrappers with some soilining and lightly worn edges; splits and light wear to the spine. Some pages loose but complete. $375

Enrico Donati (1909–2008) was an Italian-born American painter and sculptor, known for his works in Surrealism, Constructivism, and Abstract Expressionism. He attended the New School for Social Research, and in 1942 had his first one-man show at the New School’s gallery. His work impressed the art historian Lionello Venturi, who brought him into a circle of prominent European artists, many of them Surrealists, who had gathered in New York at the outset of the war – Andre Breton, Max Ernst, Salvador Dali, Yves Tanguy, Arshile Gorky, Marcel Duchamp, Giorgio de Chirico, Fernand Léger and the American sculptor Alexander Calder. Mr. Donati’s work is in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the Guggenheim Museum, and the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York, as well as the Museum of Fine Art in Houston and the Royal Museums of Fine Arts of Belgium in Brussels.

$75

$350

$600

BOUSQUET, Joe; TAPIE, Michel. Max Ernst, 1950. Rene Drouin, 1950. Wraps; 4to; pp. [47], illustrated in b/w throughout, plus 11 reproductions on glossy stock at rear (one of them folding). Inscribed on the FFEP, each in their distinct hand, “A Enrico Donati, tres cordialmente Max Ernst / et amities de Dorothea Tanning, sa femme.” Front cover detached; spine largely perished; gatherings exposed. Contents very good. Sold as is. $300

GOMEZ-CORREA, Enrique; DONATI, Enrico (illus.). En Pleno Dia. Santiago de Chile: Ediciones Mandragora, 1949. Wraps; 4to; pp. 51, [3], with b/w illustrations by Enrico Donati. Number 2 from a limited edition of 500 copies, signed by Gomez-Correa on the limitation page. Additionally, with a four-stanza poem on the FFEP, handwritten and signed by Gomez-Correa, dedicated to Donati. Covers lightly wrinkled along yapp edges; spine tips lightly bumped. Internally bright and clean. $750
$45

$45

$40

$60

$50

$40

$40

$375

$150

$20

$250 (also offered: wrappers edition of the same work. $100)

Ernst, Max. Max Ernst: Beyond Painting and other Writings by the Artist and his Friends. New York: Wittenborn, Schultz, Inc. 1948. Original wrappers, with cover design by Paul Rand. Very good copy with modest soiling and wear. $75